

AMCI Adds Sales Rep in Michigan Area

Terryville, CT – Midwest Representatives is now representing Advanced Micro Controls Inc (AMCI) in the Michigan area.

AMCI has realized growth in the automotive industry and recently added sales reps in the Michigan area to better service the expanding market. AMCI's localized sales representatives have a deep knowledge base of AMCI products, and provide assistance with product selection and support. AMCI sales reps work with a large number of Allen-Bradley, Schneider, and GE distributors who together, will help customers and OEM's find the best solution for their application.

Midwest Representatives brings years of practical experience in the industrial and automotive markets, and AMCI is excited to announce their affiliation with AMCI. The Midwest team will be looking into customer orders, promoting new AMCI products, and helping customers understand how AMCI control solutions can help them.

If you are in the Michigan area, please contact Midwest Representatives to learn more:
